BARRY BUDDON BEACH CLEAN UP – Sunday 13th May 2018

Hidden from view from Carnoustie is the magnificent beach that runs from Barry Ness to Monifieth. Home to a wide variety of birds, for much of the year access to this beach is restricted because of live firing on the Barry Buddon ranges. As a result, a considerable amount of flotsam and jetsam is washed up on the beach which needs to be collected and removed. This includes some wonderfully bleached and sculpted driftwood. To this end, a beach clean-up is organised bi-annually and sponsored by the Monifieth Rotary Club, who need as many people as possible to assist. Volunteers from Carnoustie are being invited to take part in this worthwhile venture. If anyone is willing to give up a couple of hours of their time, they are invited to arrive at the Barry Buddon Training Centre (BBTC) car park at 1000hrs on Sunday 13th May 2018.

The event, which would be suitable for both families and individuals, offers a wonderful opportunity to walk along the fantastic but usually inaccessible Barry Sands, whilst at the same time providing invaluable assistance to the BBTC in their conservation efforts, by collecting rubbish on the way. Normally the event lasts around two hours but naturally volunteers may leave whenever it suits. Do think about joining in – your contribution would be most welcome

To reach the BBTC car park from Carnoustie, follow the main A 930 road to Monifieth and turn left in the town centre following the red military signs for Barry Buddon. Immediately having passed through the railway underpass turn left again and follow the road (which runs alongside the railway) which leads directly to the car park. Here a briefing will be given before volunteers are led in their cars to the beach area.
